ABOUT NATURAL BRIDGE - At 200 feet tall, the Natural Bridge is the largest limestone arch in North America. It has been a destination for millions who have come to see this geologic marvel. The Bridge was purchased in 1774 by Thomas Jefferson to preserve its natural character. Jefferson hired a freedman named Patrick Henry as caretaker. Henry would act as guide and host many visitors in his home, and after Jefferson's death a hotel was built nearby to accommodate those from near and far. Jefferson and Henry set the trend for the next 200 years. The Bridge was privately owned as a resort with various hotels until 2016 with the founding of Natural Bridge State Park.

GIFT SHOP AND ARTISAN CENTER - Visit our gift shop inside the visitor center. Tickets to see the bridge and caverns can be purchased, as can memorabilia of your visit. The gift shop offers a wide variety of apparel and souvenirs. Our consignment center houses local artisan's crafts. Paintings, mugs and jewelry are just a sample of the fine crafts offered.

NATURE PROGRAMS AND GUIDED HIKES - Check in at the park's visitor center to find out about special activities during your visit. Special state and national programs are scheduled throughout the year. Pack a lunch or enjoy a meal at the snack bar while you are at the park.

GEOLOGY - The bridge itself is one of the oldest geologic features on the East Coast. The limestone base consists of compressed remains of organisms that lived in the seas during the Ordovician period of the Paleozoic era nearly 500 million years ago. As recently as around a million years ago, a sinkhole diverted Cedar Creek and channeled it as an underground river. Eventually, the cave collapsed, leaving only the thickest part of the cave ceiling - the bridge we see today.

BEAR AWARE - Things to remember in bear country:

- Keep your dog on a leash at all times. Off-leash dogs are the most common cause of backcountry negative interactions with bears. Consider leaving your dog at home.
- If you meet a bear, do not run. Back away slowly while facing the bear. Alert it to your presence by talking and making a bit of noise.
- Use extra caution in places where hearing or visibility is limited, such as brushy areas, near streams, where trails round a bend and on windy days.
- Reduce your chance of surprising a bear on the trail by making noise, talking or singing. If you encounter a bear, please report the contact to the park office.

If you encounter a bear, please report the contact to the park office.
